

Add-What's-Missing Books

Brown Round Tree: Each tree is a book page. Cut out the tree shapes and use notebook rings to put the book together (the pages are easier to turn). The pieces you need are on the last page. Cut them out and store them in a small zipper baggie. When the children do the activity, they put the pictures in the places they belong. The pictures are placed on the tree in the order they appear in the book. The last page of the book is a tree where the children place the pictures.
