

The Seasons of an Apple: A Tree-Shape Pop-Up Book

Cut out the apple shape. Use it as a template to make the apple-shaped book cover shown below

Lay it over a folded sheet of red construction paper. Place the apple template next to the folded edge and cut around the apple to make a book-cover-like silhouette of an apple (do not cut apart the opposed silhouettes).

Fan-fold the seasons-of-the-apple-tree picture-sequence on the next page.

Glue the first picture, "fall," to the inside front cover of the apple book cover, as shown below; glue the last picture, "summer," to the inside of the back of the cover.

Do not glue the two center pictures, "winter" and "spring" to the cover.

The seasons-of-an-apple-tree pictures will pop-up when the children open the book.

Children learn about the seasons with The Apple book. As they read the book they will see the change that happens during the year.
